Original publisher: Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala. : Air University Press ; USAF Academy, Colo. : in coordination with USAF Institute for National Security Studies, 2002. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)50765449 Subject: Nuclear arms control -- United States. Excerpt: . . . National Security Strategy. The concept of containment at the heart of US national security strategy actually predates the Cold War. The Soviet Union was our ally of necessity in World War II, but the United States and other western leader-ship recognized that the Soviet combination of history and ide-ology dictated a cautious approach after the war. The United States vision for the post-war world was for an era of peaceful cooperation and recovery with security ensured by the four policemen : the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, and China. This desired stability would be accomplished by a strategy of containment by inclusion or integration, bringing the Soviet Union fully and equally into the normal commu-nity of nations. This would be accomplished largely through economic assistance and diplomacy. But Soviet intransigence at every turn led the United States to search for an alternative implementation strategy,...
